RAIN PREVENTED KANSAS CITY-COLUMBUS CONTEST YESTELDAY.

Blues Have Succeeded Well igninst the Senators Thus Far-Parde to Oppose Wolters To-day-lo Remain at Columbus.

Yesterday's heavy rain prevented either the Kansas City or the Columbis team from making an advance in the league race and the opening of the three game series ras postponed until to-day. Pariee and Wolters will be the opposing pitchers in this afternoon's game. To-morrow-Ladies' day-a double-header will be played, the first game commencing at 1:30, and to-morrow night Magnate Loftus and his team of Senators will depart for Milwankee to tackle the Brewers in the East vs. East series.

President C. H. Ebbitts, of Brocklyn, is the guest of Manager Loftus at the Victoria, and these two gentlemen, with Magnate Jimmie Manning of the Bluss spent the afternoon in a social session. The off day permitted the players of the visiting team to spend the time in swapping yarns of the diamond in the hotel lobby, and the home players in their boarding house near the ball park passed the afternoon in similar pursuits, which required as little exertion.

The present series will be the third time The present series will be the third time that the Blues and the Senators have come together. The two teams broke even when they met at Columbus the first time for four games. At Kansas City the home team took two out of three, and Manning's crew repeated this act when Columbus was visited again, so that Kansas City has taken six out of the ten games played with Columbus.

son's Team. President C. H. Ebbitts, of the Brooklyn baseball club, arrived in Kansas City yesterday and will be a spectator at to-day's game between Kansas City and Columbus. It is believed that Mr. Ebbitts' mission to the West is to look for players for his next year's team. In fact, he does not deny that he will take particular notice of the individual work of the players in the two teams to-day, and consider of how much value they might be to his own club. Yesterday afternoon President Ebbitts held conferences with both President Tom Loftus, of the Columbus team, and President Manning, of the home cit b.

Regarding the National League season, Mr. Ebbitts said last night: "The war has interfered greatly with the success of the National League season, and all the cities in the league have felt its effects in diminished crowds. At the beginning of the terday and will be a spectator at to-day's ished crowds. At the beginning of the year, my own town, Brooklyn, gave the year, my own town, Brooklyn, gave the team fairly good support, the attendance at our games exceeding that at New York, Boston or Philadelphia. Since we have had a streak of hard luck and have struck the toboggan the crowds have fallen down greatly. It will be a good thing for the game if the war closes before the opening of next year's season as now seems probof next year's season, as now seems prob

Mr. Ebbitts refused to discuss the Freed-man-"Ducky" Holmes incident. "It would be ill-timed for me, who manages a team in the same city with Mr. Freedman, to state my disapproval of any action he has taken," said Mr. Ebbitts. "I am well ac-quainted with the New York president, and we are good friends. Freedman may have mistake in taking the action he made a mistake in taking the action he did, but st the same time one cannot approve Holmes' remark on the ball field." Mr. Ebblits declined to venture a prediction as to the outcome of the National League contest, other than to say that he considered Boston, Cleveland, Cincinnati and Baltimore all in the race.

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 2.-The three events on the card at the opening of the Grand circuit races to-day proved to be very tame, notwithstanding the large fields all three events being won in straight heats. The track was a little heavy, owing to re-cent rains, but at that, the time made was good, considering that none of the winners was hard pushed.

In the 2:17 trot Mattie Patterson was a prohibitive favorite and won without an effort. In the 2:14 pace Harry Ohmer had been picked for a winner but Argetta won easily. Ohmer not being in the race at any stage. The 2:21 trot was won by Bat-tleton, a green horse which made his first mark in this race. Battleton was favorite in the pools and never was in danger. The subject of last night's lecture was "Spain." It was largely descriptive in character, though a short sketch of each city, cathedral or fortress that has become a part of the monumental history of the world was given as the picture appeared upon the screen. This he attributed to the fact that "as a savage nation Spain was the chief of the savage nations," and her people have never outgrown their savage instincts. Though divided into many political factions at the present time and with narty lines inchily drawn, the bull fight people have never outgrown their savage instincts. Though divided into many political factions at the present time and with party lines tightly drawn, the bull fight unites the whole people in a common savage interest, he said, and this is as true of the Spanlard in the colonies as in the mother country. "The bull fight is a relic of the Roman occupation of Spain that has remained with the people and on account of the deprayed moral condition of a people who take delight in such a sport the nation is one whose glory has long since departed."

Not Disturbed the Rate Situation.

CHICAGO, Aug. 2.-The question of ticket scalpers and their relation with the raliroad companies entered into the proceedings of the interstate commerce commission which to-day continued its investigation into the causes of the Canadian Pacific rate war. After F. H. Whitney, representing the Great Northern railway, had concluded his direct statement, he was requested by Mr. McNicoll, passenger traffic manager of the Canadian Pacific, to read a letter having reference to the reduction of passenger rates from St. Paul to Victoria, B. C. The letter was written in 1886 to the Canadian Pacific Railway Company. The first paragraph was to the effect that there has been no difficulty with the ticket scalpers on the subject of rates, but concluded with the suggestion with the ticket scalpers on the subject of rates, but concluded with the suggestion that the rates to Victoria should be reduced and the matter taken out of the hands of scalpers.

Mr. Whitney, when asked to read the correspondence, said he would be willing to do so, provided McNicoll would file the letters he had received on the subject. During the discussion that ensued Mr. McNicoll declined to give the required assurances, and eventually the chairman ruled that whenever Mr. Whitney based his statements on a letter he will be expected to produce and file the original correspondence. He added that the canadian Pacific rathway, when it presented its case, would be expected to do the same. Mr. Whitney in the course of his statement, maintained that the American lines had been held up by the Canadian Pacific and at the price of peace had been obliged to give up differentials. Speaking of the increased traffic brought about by the Klondike boom, Mr. Whitney declared that if the Canadian Pacific had maintained tariff rates the American rallroad companies would not have sustained enormous losses. The speaker made a strong point of the fact that the passenger rates throughout the country had been completely demoralized as the result of the action of the Canadian Pacific railway.

Mr. Whitney showed that the Canadian Pacific had forced companies to reduce passenger fares from New York to St. Paul and other Western points to a 1 cent a mile rate. He declared that such a cut meant the loss of enormous sums to the companies. The transportation of passengers to these Western points costs at least 2 cents a mile, and where the country is hilly and sparsely populated the cost is ever greater, he said.

Replying to a question as to whether the Eastern lines had such a side through the lowering of rates. Mr. Whitney said he had been informed by railroad officials in New York that the loss to Eastern lines had been appalling, despite the fact that the volume of business had greatly increased.

During the afternoon the side of creased.

During the afternoon the side of the Canadian Pacific was presented by General Passenger Agent McNicoli, of that road. He said that the greed of the American lines induced them to give differentials during the rush to Klondike, the companies hoping thereby to gain all the traffic for themselves. He insisted that differential rates were given between Chicago and St. Paul. At one time, Mr. McNicoll asserted American rates from Atlantic ocean points were being quoted at $4 lower than the Canadian rates, and yet the Canadian Pacific had been accused of demoralizing the rates.

Differentials, the speaker said, were concessions granted to certain railways to equalize certain disadvantages and he contended that a number of railways in the States were given this advantage. In support of this contention the speaker filed a tariff sheet showing that there were sixteen differential rates between St. Paul and New York. Mr. McNicoll attributed the lowering of rates not to the competition of the Canadian Pacific but to the operations of the ticket scalpers and to the system of issuing mileage tickets.

At 5:15 o'clock the chairman adjourned further business until to-morrow.

ROADS FORGET AGREEMENT. Demoralization in Western Freight Situation Bids Fair to Soon Be Renewed.

The new freight agreement of Western lines which was effective on July 15 and again on July 25 and in a measure renewed on August 1, seems to have been forgotten some of its provisions already, although the situation is not as yet very bad. How ever, if the demoralization in certain lines continues a few days longer the agreement is likely to become a dead letter and the freight situation will return to the old status unsatisfactory alike to the railroads and shippers.
